

FINAGENT

Your money, on autopilot.

April 2026 | Early Concept

Every financial app tells you what to do. FinAgent does it for you.

THE PROBLEM

The average person juggles 5–7 financial accounts with no unified view and no one acting on their behalf.

- 84% of Americans exceed their monthly budget
- Thousands left idle in low-yield checking every year
- Forgotten subscriptions, missed tax windows, suboptimal debt payoff
- Quality financial advice requires $100K+ minimums with an RIA

Existing tools either give you information (Mint, Copilot) or execute in a single silo (Wealthfront for investing). Nobody acts across your whole financial life.

THE OPPORTUNITY

An AI agent that monitors your complete financial picture and executes decisions within guardrails you set.

- ✓ Sweeps idle cash to high-yield savings
- ✓ Cancels unused subscriptions
- ✓ Optimizes RSU / option exercise timing
- ✓ Negotiates lower rates on bills
- ✓ Flags tax-loss harvesting windows
- ✓ Moves money before a bill hits

HOW IT WORKS

Tier 1 — Automatic

Low-stakes, reversible actions the agent executes on its own. Cash sweeps, subscription cancellations, bill pay. Set your guardrails once.

Tier 2 — One-Tap Approve

Medium-stakes moves the agent prepares end-to-end. You review a clear summary and approve with a single tap.

Tier 3 — You Decide

High-stakes decisions (RSUs, refinancing, tax strategy). Agent builds the full analysis; you — or a human advisor — makes the call.

WHY NOW

- Open banking APIs (Plaid) now support read + write access across 12,000+ institutions
- LLMs can finally reason about complex, multi-variable financial situations

MARKET

AI in Personal Finance (2033)	$3.7B
AI Agents in Fin. Services (2033)	$6.7B
Robo-Advisor AUM (2025)	$2T+

- 78% of Americans are open to AI-based financial guidance (Plaid, 2026)
- Real-time payment rails (FedNow, RTP) make instant money movement possible
- Banks are structurally conflicted — their AI will never tell you to move money to a competitor

BUSINESS MODEL

- $29–149/month subscription (no AUM fee)
- Revenue share when agent places you in a better product
- B2B2C: employer financial wellness benefit

WHAT MAKES IT DEFENSIBLE

Data Flywheel

Every action taken (and approved or rejected) trains a personalized model. After 12 months, FinAgent knows your finances better than any human advisor — and that's impossible to replicate.

Zero Conflict of Interest

Banks push their own products. Robo-advisors want your AUM. FinAgent's only objective is your net worth. This structural alignment is the brand and the moat.

Outcome-Based Trust

The north star metric: Dollars Optimized Per User Per Year. When users see a concrete $2,500+ annual improvement, retention is near-zero churn and referrals are organic.

Early-stage concept | Would love your honest take.